The Western Sydney Academy of Dramatic Arts will retain enrolment information in accordance with current privacy laws and your information will not be provided to any persons. We will keep you informed by email marketing of any current and/or future classes. You can choose to opt out of any email marketing by sending us an email to "unsubscribe".

The Western Sydney Academy of Dramatic Arts receives numerous requests from production companies looking for actors/extras etc and we will use your contact details to keep you informed on any opportunities / requests made to the Academy. Your details will not be released to any of these third party agencies without your written consent.

Weekly drama classes are scheduled to coincide as much as possible with current NSW school term dates. Weekly attendance is expected and encouraged to ensure sufficient students to undertake class activities; and that students get the most of the classes and in turn skill development. If classes are not filled or at quota, WSADA reserves the right to merge classes with students of similar ages no more than the next age up.

Students are to wear appropriate formal WSADA T-shirt at each class they attend. T-shirts can be purchased at studios or please Place your request by email to info@wsada.com.au stating age, sex and size of student and in turn this will be arranged with you.

Valuables are to be left at home and WSADA will not take responsibility for any losses to personal belongings. Whilst in classes all mobile phones are to be switched off or on silent.

The safety of our students is our priority, for this reason students under 16 years of age must be collected by a parent/guardian at the conclusion of scheduled classes. WSADA prides itself on our duty of care for our students. We expect that all students behave appropriately and under no circumstances will bullying be tolerated.

Students are encouraged to bring a bottle of water, no food is allowed whilst classes are in session.

All WSADA teachers possess a current Working with Children Employment check with the NSW Commission for Children and Young People's.

By enrolling in any WSADA drama class, you waive and release WSADA and Parramatta Riverside Theatre / Connection Studios, of all claims for loss, damage and/or any injury as a result of your participation in drama class activities.
